Notes from Toad Song Farm

What's Hop-penning at Toad Song Farm: The last event for 2025 at Toad Song Farm is our annual Stone Soup Party. This year it will be held on Saturday, December 20, starting @5:00PM. Guests are asked to bring something for the pot or for the table. You should also bring a clean container to take soup with you when you leave to share with a neighbor or a friend who can't join us for the evening. (It's a great way to break the ice with new neighbors or reestablish good relationships with old ones.). There are usually door prizes for those who find a stone in their soup bowl. Come early and stay late around the fire. Bring your hand drum or other instruments, BYOB, even bring a tent and camp out for the night if you want. Look for more information on the stone soup party Facebook event page.

Comfy Chicken, Broccoli, and Noodle Casserole/Hot dish.

It's getting chilly out again! With Thanksgiving and other holidays right around the corner, I wanted to share a quick and easy casserole for the whole family that isn't expensive and comes together in about 30-45 minutes.

This can be vegetarian or with chicken! You'll need:

½ - ¾ bag of egg noodles

1 can of cream of mushroom or cream of chicken soup

½ cup of mayonnaise

1 lb. block of cheddar or Colby jack (or a mix) of shredded cheese

3-4 tbsp. milk

12 oz. of shredded chicken or vegan chicken strips shredded (if you're using chicken, a rotisserie chicken works great for this) (Kay tried this with fresh tuna chunks cooked in garlic and butter)

1 small head of broccoli or a bag of frozen broccoli (thawed)

1 medium diced onion

Salt, pepper, garlic powder, smoked paprika, and adobo complete seasoning - all to taste

Crispy onions (optional)

Olive oil to coat your pan

Cooking spray to coat your baking dish

9x13 oven safe baking dish

Large skillet to cook the chicken, onion, and broccoli

Large mixing bowl for the casserole filling mix

Medium pot for boiling noodles

To make: Preheat your oven to 375. Bring a medium pot of water to a boil and cook your egg noodles about a minute short of the package directions - set aside

In a large skillet, coat with olive oil and bring to a medium heat: Sauté onion until it starts to become a little soft. Add in broccoli and shredded chicken - cook until broccoli is tender and chicken is warmed through.

Season with salt, pepper, garlic powder, and adobo complete seasoning to taste. While the chicken and broccoli are cooking, in a large mixing bowl, add the cream of mushroom or cream of chicken soup, mayonnaise, milk, and ½ of the cheese - mix (if it's too thick for your liking, add a splash more milk)

Add in pepper, garlic powder, and smoked paprika to taste - set aside

Once the noodles, chicken, and broccoli are done, add everything to the large mixing bowl and combine. Spray your 9x13 pan with non-stick spray and add everything to the pan

Top with crispy onions and remaining cheese.

Bake at 375 until the cheese on top is melted and the onions are browned and crunchy

Let cool for about 10 minutes before serving. Enjoy and stay cozy!

Echinacea

Echinacea Stimulates the body defense systems against disease. It is an antibacterial, antiseptic and antiviral. It stimulates the immune system. Echinacea is often used for treatment and prevention of urinary tract infection. It is one of the best blood purifiers. To be most effective, take only a few days at a time when needed. Do not take year round.

Historically: Winnebago tribesman put the plant in their mouths before performing a coal ritual. Magicians would wash their hands with Echinacea before plunging them in scalding water. During the 19th century, Echinacea was used as a blood purifier and a treatment for dizziness.

Spiritually: Strengthens many health spell works. Many native tribes used as an offering to the spirits to ensure strength. Carrying it will provide inner strength in stressful or trying times.
